

Lloyds supports Gloves in a Bottle

Lloyds Pharmacy is the UK's leading independent pharmacy chain, employing 16,000 staff and dispensing 120 million prescription items annually. By stocking Gloves in a Bottle in another 150 of its top pharmacies (also now making it available at all their 1,600 plus outlets throughout the country), it's a massive endorsement to the benefits of shielding lotions.

Shielding lotions are fast becoming the tried and trusted treatment for dry, itchy or cracked skin conditions such as eczema and dermatitis. They are also recommended as a skin protectant for anyone that uses household or workplace chemicals.

Conventional moisturizing lotions are not able to convey moisture to the deeper layers of the skin and only mask dry skin.

Gloves in a Bottle replenishes the protective outer layer of the skin, thus allowing it to heal itself and to boost the production of its own natural oils and moisture. Now that Gloves in a Bottle is available online for less than £5 and from all Lloyds 'Healthcare for life' pharmacies, natural and efficient skin care is within easy reach of their customers.
